

Army and Navy Academy

Private Boarding School – Carlsbad , California

Army and Navy Academy is an international recognized college-preparatory school for boys, grades 7-12 that follows University of California standards and incorporates leadership training centered around its JROTC program. Since 1910, ANA has sought to develop scholarship and Honorable character in young men. The cadets benefit from having a greater degree of structure, motivation and discipline in their daily routine. One of the core competencies is this academic achievement of the student. On a regular basis, the school sees students improve their GPA, often within the first semester of attendance. Small class sizes, a highly committed staff and individualized support enable students to achieve better results and improve their chances for attending a college and university of their choice. Mandatory JROTC leadership classes emphasize teamwork, honor, self-esteem, citizenship, study habits, and time management. Band, performing arts, extra curricular clubs and CIF and intermural sports complement the academic program.

Seeking to develop scholarship and honorable character in young men. Welcome to Army and Navy Academy!

Boarding Facilities

Cadets are assigned to cottages or dorms where two or three young men reside. Residential Life Officers are assigned to provide oversight after the academic day ends. Cadets receive direction and mentorship from them pertaining to the following: proper grooming, room inspections, residential life assignments, and mentorship to instill honor, integrity, respect, responsibility and compassion, and the community beyond.
